

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Thursday, June 3, 2010

For more information, please contact
Clay Eals, communication officer
425.888.2777, clay.eals@encompassnw.org

Encompass salutes volunteers during Rise and Shine Breakfast

Encompass was grateful to be well represented at the 14th annual Rise and Shine Breakfast held June 3 at Camp River Ranch in Carnation by the Snoqualmie Valley Community Network.

Thirty-eight Valley individuals and organizations were presented with framed Rise and Shine award certificates. More than 100 people attended the breakfast.

Gregory Malcolm, Terry Granillo, Kristina Steffen, Vickie Himmelberger and Clay Eals represented 10 nominators from Encompass and presented awards to these 18 individuals:

- Mary Lloyd, preschool volunteer and substitute teacher
- Cindy and Jim Walker, North Bend Theatre and Emerald City Smoothie owners and community volunteers
- Gwen Berry, Zach Sletten, Micki Harrison, Christine Vollen and Jeanette Bourne, Respectful Giving volunteers
- Sonja and JR Stevens and Kathy Lessley, all-around volunteers
- Brook Starnes, playground facility volunteer
- John Day, volunteer Little League administrator, coach and field provider; Jeff Mitchell, volunteer youth-sports coach; and Terry Granillo, volunteer Little League youth-umpire mentor
- Steve Rackets and Charlotte Jacobs, Snoqualmie Valley Chamber of Commerce volunteers
- Charlie Kinnune, Mount Si High School adviser and volunteer

The Snoqualmie Valley Community Network provides support for healthy activities, information, advocacy and systems to support youth.

For more information, call Kristy Trione, executive director, at 425.333.6614 or e-mail her at svcn@msn.com.

For more information about Encompass, call 425.888.2777 or visit <http://www.encompassnw.org>.